Thank you for accepting!

Dear Michalis Panayides,

We are pleased to accept your abstract titled, "Recovering From Inefficiencies In Queueing Systems With Two Consecutive Waiting Zones," and to invite you to attend the 2022 CORS/INFORMS International Conference, June 5-8, in Vancouver, BC, Canada. This conference will take place in person with no virtual option, and proof of vaccination is required. View more on health & safety here. Please communicate this information to your co-author(s), if any. The quality and range of the abstracts point to an exciting conference ahead of us.

The 2022 CORS/INFORMS conference will showcase the opportunities of advancing trends in deep learning and their impact on business & society. Learn the latest technological advancements & industry trends from a global line-up of experts. It will offer a unique opportunity to interact with business leaders, influential technologists, & data scientists leading the deep learning revolution. Learn from & connect with industry innovators sharing best practices to advance the smart artificial intelligence revolution.

All participants, including speakers and attendees, must register and pay the appropriate registration fee by May 1 for your name to appear in the program. You may register online here, <http://meetings.informs.org/wordpress/2022international/registration/>.

Please make your hotel reservation by May 12 to receive the special CORS/INFORMS rate: <https://meetings.informs.org/wordpress/2022international/host-hotel/>.

The INFORMS International Conference Committee looks forward to hosting you in Vancouver in June!

Thank you,

Cassie McKay
